

FREDERICK PALMER, ASSOCIATED PRESS CORRESPONDENT, INTERVIEWS FIELD MARSHAL JOHN FRENCH

Shows signs of strain of last few months.

(Frederick Palmer who is at the front in France for the Associated Press sends the following dispatch:)
British Headquarters in France, March 25.—(Via London)—It was in the drawing room of the house in which he makes his office that Field Marshal Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary forces on the continent, received the correspondent today and discussed the military situation. Before conversation was over the British commander answering a question concerning the result of the war said:
"Indeed there is no doubt of the outcome. I was never so confident of victory as I am today. I am as confident as General Grant was when he took command of the army of the Potomac. He kept at it, and so shall we."
On a long table before the British commander were a number of maps and reports. Otherwise the man who directs the operations of the British army in France appeared completely dissociated from the details of the different army departments situated in other offices about the town. It was to be observed, however, that the heads of these departments report to Field Marshal French immediately upon a telephonic request.
Looking younger than his photographs make him, Sir John showed signs of the strain of the last few months as he stood before his open grate and talked of his campaign and the war.
Contested Every Foot In Falling Back From Mons
"What were the most important contributing factors making your retreat from Mons secure against overwhelming odds?" Sir John was asked.
"The dogged tenacity of our little regular army which contested every foot of the ground as we fell back," was the answer.
"Not once did our soldiers lose heart. They understood that we were not defeated, but making a strategic retreat before heavy odds and that all the punishment which they could inflict on the enemy by a cool and stubborn resistance from point to point was no less valuable to the ultimate object than if they were advancing. Their confidence that their turn to take the offensive would come, remained unshaken. Next in importance was the work of our cavalry in its aggressiveness and alertness in preventing the cavalry of the enemy from getting around us. Our cavalry established a decided superiority over that of the enemy, which was of vital assistance."
"And what do you think was the most critical moment of all your campaign in France?" was the next question put to Sir John French. One would not have been surprised if he had said when his reserves were practically exhausted in the battle of Ypres and (Continued On Page 6)

TERRIBLE CONDITIONS PREVAIL IN PERSIA

THOUSANDS MASSACRED BY TURKS AND KURDS

Tiflis, Wednesday, March 24.—(Via Petrograd and London, Mar. 25.) Telegram and letters reaching here from Urumiya, in north-western Persia, describe the situation of the American Presbyterian mission station there as desperate. Turkish regular troops and Kurds are persecuting and massacring Assyrian Christians. Harry P. Packard, the physician of the mission station at Urumiya of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, risked his life in a successful effort to prevent a frightful massacre at Goghtan where 2,000 Assyrians made their last stand. They had fought for three days and all their ammunition was gone. At this juncture Dr. Packard unfurled an American flag and advanced between the lines. He acted resolutely in the saving of all but 200 of the Assyrians who had been burned in a church. Christians Take Refuge At American Mission

SAYS GERMANY BLOCKED THE SURRENDER OF CONSTANTINOPLE AND DARDANELLES

London, March 25.—The Evening Chronicle publishes a dispatch from Bucharest, Rumania, saying the Turkish government recently decided to surrender Constantinople and the Dardanelles to the attacking fleet. The surrender was all but arranged, the Chronicle says, when at the last moment it was blocked by Germany.
"The peace party forced a vote at a recent cabinet meeting to send emissaries, one of whom was the American ambassador, Henry Morgenthau, to the Dardanelles to negotiate with the commander of the allied fleet for the surrender of the straits and of Constantinople," says the Chronicle. "Just as everything seemed settled the German general, Liman von Sanders, heard of the plan and nipped it with the threat of court martial for all concerned."
Ambassador Morgenthau made a visit of two days to the Dardanelles last week.

HUNGER RATHER THAN STEEL DROVE FORCE FROM PRZEMYSL

General Headquarters of the Austrian Army, Tuesday, March 23, (Via Berlin and London March 25).—The Austrian garrison of Przemyśl subsisted for 134 days on provisions designed to last for eighty days. How it came about that the great fortress was supplied with only this comparatively small amount of provisions is an interesting story which shows how unforeseen events upset the calculations of the Austrians and placed the stronghold into the hands of the Russians.
Przemyśl originally was provisioned for the extreme limit which it was thought a modern fortress technically was capable of withstanding a modern besieging army—namely, about six months. At the end of the first stage of the siege the garrison had (Continued On Page 6)

DAMAGING GOODS BUT NOT NITROGLYCERIN

Enfremont, W. Va., March 25.—Representing that their wagon was loaded with nitroglycerin, bootleggers succeeded in landing a load of liquor from Oakland, Md., to Grafton, W. Va., without being arrested for violating the state's liquor law. Drivers of passing teams stood nearly paralyzed with fear as the outfit passed with its reckless driver bounding about on the seat, whipping the horses and with the wheels thundering over the rocks. He did not stop until he had arrived at a road nine miles from Grafton, where twenty gallons of liquor on board were quickly disposed of. The driver then sold the team and wagon.

SEN. HARDING TELLS ASSEMBLY TO GO SLOW

Columbus, March 25.—United States Senator Warren G. Harding, speaking before the members of the legislature, the governor and other state officials and members of the chamber of commerce at a luncheon today, warned the legislature against perpetrating the pendulum to swing too far in its efforts to depart from the centralized government established by the preceding administration. He said that political sponsorship and responsibility make for that team work which Ohio needs so much at the present time. He declared he did not want to be misunderstood and said that Governor Willis was properly directing the legislature without attempting to dictate its work directly.
Governor Willis also spoke.

MADE BIG PROFITS ON 2,000 WHITE SLAVES

New York, March 25.—Morris Goldberg, whose arraignment was on the calendar today in the court of special sessions, is accused of being an official of a vice trust which maintained more than forty large halls in her hall, according to information reaching here today.
The report said that the Sallie Murrell, a tow boat, heard the Parkersburg's distress signal, assisted the damaged boat off the obstacle and towed her to dry docks at Point Pleasant, W. Va. There were no casualties.

Steamer Parkersburg SHOT AS SPY

Limeville, France, March 25.—Marguerite Schmitt, a French woman sentenced to death as a spy after being court-martialed, was shot yesterday after the troops of the garrison had been drawn up to witness the execution. She accepted 200 francs ($40) from the Germans to enter the French lines and obtain information.

REPORT KARLSRUHE SUNK IN WEST INDIES TO AVOID CAPTURE

New York, March 25.—German naval officers at Bremerhaven are quoted as authority for the statement that the cruiser Karlsruhe lies at the bottom of the sea in the West Indies, by Jesse Boyd, second officer of the American steamer Carib that was sunk by a mine in the North sea, who reached here today from Rotterdam aboard the steamer Rotterdam. Mr. Boyd said he spent five days at Bremerhaven and through an old time friend, now an officer in the German navy, obtained positive confirmation of the rumor that the Karlsruhe was no longer afloat. She went down with the German flag flying from every mast, at her stern and how and as she sank the ship's band played martial music. Mr. Boyd quotes his friend as saying, "A German bomb sent her to the bottom after she had struck on a reef. Flag, Dips Water, Salute Is Fired and Honors are Paid."
As the last flag dipped beneath the water German rifles fired a salute in her honor—a salute that is fired in burial at sea of naval officers who have fought and fallen in the fight.
Some of her crew are now at Bremerhaven, the naval officer is said to have told Mr. Boyd. The others are still alive—somewhere. Mr. Boyd said he did not want to appear too inquisitive, so did not ask many questions, but he inferred that the men who had not made Bremerhaven were still in the West Indies or had been landed in South America.
Survivors Decorated For Valor at Kaiser's Order
Mr. Boyd's friend said he had seen and talked with member of the Karlsruhe crew at Bremerhaven and volunteered the information that all who had reached Germany were decorated for valor by order of the Emperor.
The Karlsruhe struck the reef that proved to be her burying place, according to Boyd's informant, in December. For some time her crew tried to free her but were unsuccessful. When it seemed certain that she would be found by the enemy and fall into their hands it was decided, Mr. Boyd was told, to destroy her.
Accordingly the crew were taken off and placed aboard one of the captive ships which the Karlsruhe conveyed. A bomb was then placed in a vital spot on the steamer and from a distance the sailors and officers saw her go down.
For some reason, not clear to Mr. Boyd, some of the Karlsruhe crew were placed ashore at a place not designated. The remainder reached Bremerhaven safely, Mr. Boyd was told.

BILLY BUT-IN
The Times Weather Man
IT'S TIME TO PLANT EARLY TATERS

It's a cliché that if us American farmers have gotta feed the whole world for the next few years we'll have to get busy and get things into the ground good and early. I'm glad I live in a country that thinks more of the science of digging holes for potatoes and such than for men. Here's my weather proclamation for tomorrow:
Ohio—Rain or snow and colder tonight. Friday partly cloudy colder; probably snow flurries near Lake Erie.
Kentucky—Partly cloudy and colder tonight and Friday.
West Virginia—Unsettled tonight, probably local rains or snows; Friday fair and colder.

RUSSIAN OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT RENEWED

London, March 25.—Mine sweepers alone maintain naval activity in the Dardanelles, but as the equinoctial storms in those waters seldom last longer than seven days, a resumption of the bombardment is expected at any time, and may possibly take place today. It has been just one week since the last engagement.

Petrograd reports the first strategic fruits of the capture of the Ottoman fortress of Przemyśl in the renewed violence of the Russian offensive movement against the Central Powers. Large numbers of prisoners are claimed. The only other item of interest from the eastern front is the Russian claim to have pushed back the Germans on the Pilica river at a point where Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the German commander is expected to make his last stand against Warsaw.
From the western front the Germans have made attacks at Arras and in the Champagne country, according to official French reports, without success. Germany is continuing her aerial warfare on British ships, but apparently without the same measure of success which have been attended by submarine attacks on merchantmen.

Provides For Survey Of Proposed Canal

Columbus, March 25.—Senator Collins, of Hamilton, expected to introduce a bill today appropriating $65,000 for the purpose of making a survey to determine the best route of a large canal between the Ohio river and Lake Erie. George came to Alliance a year ago, according to the police and the headquarters of the cult have been under surveillance of local police and federal authorities for some time, it is said.
His meeting place was said to be an elaborately furnished house in the residence district.

It's a Good Thing

A young man brought one of our "Ideal Pocket Savings Bank" with his three days' wages of quarters, dimes, cents and pennies to our store. We opened it and he got about $3.00 which he deposited on his savings bank.

He said, "It is a good thing. I had had the bank for a long time and I saved the small change in the bank and I saved it. If the small bank is a good thing for him it will be good for you. You can get today by having a bank with us and taking the bank with you. When you turn the bank to be opened your savings are added on a pass book, we open the time to you. ## An Easy Way to Increase Weight

Good Advice for Thin Folks

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on dragging their stomachs or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "fish cream," or following some foolish fad of eating salt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed for the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This "master stroke" of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of health builders. Sargol, through its regenerative, constructive powers, to coax the stomach and intestines to literally "soak up" the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Fisher and Streich's, Pharmacists and other leading druggists of Portsmouth and vicinity have it and will refund your money if you are not satisfied, as per the guarantee found in every package.

Caution: While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

NEW BOSTON'S EX-MAYOR ARRESTED AFTER FIGHT

New Boston Is After A Primary

Ex-Mayor M. T. Stewart and son Will Stewart of Stoughtonville and James Wadell of Lakeside were locked in the jail Wednesday evening about ten o'clock. Will Stewart and Wadell got into an argument over a pool game at the Sumner billiard room and the sequel came when Stewart is alleged to have heaved a pool ball through the side of the building, the ball going through plastering and weather boarding.

Officer Frank Cottle and deputy Pate Hall placed the two under arrest. M. T. Stewart interferred, claiming that they could not arrest his son. Mayor Davis took a hand in the trouble and told the ex-mayor to keep away. Three times between the pool room and mayor's office M. T. Stewart interferred with Officer Cottle of, claims claim, and Mayor Davis then placed "M. T." under arrest and locked him up with the other two.

Charges of intoxication and interfering with an officer were placed against M. T. Stewart, while charges of drunkenness and fighting were placed against Will Stewart and Wadell. The ex-mayor was later released without bond.

Will Stewart and Wadell were arraigned before Mayor Davis Thursday at one o'clock and pleaded guilty to the charges against them. They were fined $1 and costs each.

John Porter, who is also alleged to have interfered with the officer, was arrested by Marshal W. I. Davis Wednesday night and on his promise to appear for trial Thursday night was released. Ex-Mayor Stewart will also be given a hearing at seven o'clock tonight.

Complaints of Dogs

Will H. Barber, a retired grocer, is very much in favor of the clean-up campaign, but says there is little incentive to improve one's premises so long as city authorities permit dogs to roam at large, destroying lawns, etc.

HUNGER

consumed barely one month's supplies. Then came the heavy fighting between the Austrian relief army and the Russians about Przemyśl.

The Austrian forces, whose supply trains failed to reach them, drew on the fortress for large supplies of rations. Furthermore, the great numbers of wounded in these battles and the soldiers stricken down by cholera and other diseases could be sent nowhere else.

Railroad Carried Ammunition In Preference To Foodstuff

When railroad communication at last was restored in mid-October the stores of the fortress had been largely depleted. The railroad was first used to forward urgently needed ammunition. Hence, when the Russian steam roller was unexpectedly set in motion, driving Field Marshal von Hindenburg westward from the neighborhood of Warsaw and the Austrians from Przemyśl, provisions had been coming in for the Galician fortress for only ten days. This gave the defenders rations for eighty days.

Starvation Did Work Instead of Solid Shot

These supplies might have sufficed had the Russians resumed their battering tactics, but they placed their reliance on hunger rather than solid shot to force the capitulation of Przemyśl. They built a wall about the town out of the reach of the guns of the fortress and permitted starvation to do its work.

The final sortie of the garrison was a last act of defiance rather than a serious attempt to break through the Russian line, which was virtually impossible for the hunger-weakened force. There was a bare chance that they would be able to cut away through and effect a junction with the Austrian army in the Carpathians and when this failed General Kusmanek, the Austrian commander, received instructions to surrender. When the end came the last remnant had been scraped from the storerooms and horses as well as other animals had been slaughtered for food.

It was reported about town Thursday that George Jacobs' meat shop at 611 Eleventh street was broken into and robbed Wednesday night.

According to the reports, about $25 worth of bacon and hams were stolen, while $85 in the cash register was overlooked. Inquiry at the meat market met with the statement that the doors of the place had been discovered pushed open early Thursday, but that nothing of any consequence had been found missing.

THOUSANDS MASSACRED

Shortly before the sixty refugees had been dragged from the French mission and executed in spite of the fearful pleas of the nuns.

Men, Women And Babies Are Atrociously Murdered

At Gaspasian the Kurds were particularly cruel. This was the last of a total of 103 Assyrian villages to hold out and it was occupied a month ago. The Kurds ordered all the Assyrian men in the streets, tied them in groups of five, marched them to the graveyard and killed them barbarously, to the last boy. Girl babies and other women were then executed with great atrocity while the younger women were carried away as slaves. As a result of the war 12,000 Assyrians are taking refuge in the Caucasus, 17,000 are described as in imminent danger at the Uratian mission, while 20,000 are dead or missing. Furthermore, much property has been destroyed. The Assyrians fought their assailants bravely and, as long as they had ammunition they were victorious. The missionaries are anything in their efforts to help the people and they are spending money to this end freely. In Uratian they are dispersing the equivalent of $100 daily. Disease is prevalent among the refugees.

Amintories to save the chain of ports. His answer had character, his promptness and decisiveness. Cavalry Prevented Annihilation At Hands of the Enemy

"On the retreat from Mons at Le Catene, we were in open country in a very dangerous position and the German ambition for the annihilation of our little army might have been realized if our cavalry had not been equal to its task of covering the flanks of our steady disciplined regulars."

Few Americans probably are as familiar with the campaigns of our civil war as is Sir John. He has made a thorough study of them and from them he has drawn lessons which he has found helpful in France. He mentioned Stonewall Jackson.

"To me General Jackson was more like Cromwell than any other leader of history," said the British commander. "A heroic, martial figure whose wonderful career came to the happy close a soldier desires in the hour of victory. I have followed all his marches and battle with unflinching admiration. He had the religious exaltation of Cromwell, his dash and determination and his ready strategy and the genius of inspiring his troops with his own indomitable spirit of energy.

"But of all your commanders, Robert E. Lee, in his patience, his resource, his poise, his soundness of judgment and his possession of the qualities of high command in all emergencies is foremost in my opinion."

"A good deal has been said about the novel conditions which trench warfare in this war has developed?" was the next thing said by the correspondent. "Has it changed the qualities required of a soldier?"

"No," he replied. "Human nature remains the same, and it is the man who gives and takes the blows, whatever the nature of his weapons. Courage, discipline and tenacity are still the dominant elements of success."

Value of Artillery Has Been Exaggerated

"And the guns? It has been repeatedly stated that this has become a war of artillery."

"I think there has been an inclination to exaggerate the importance of artillery," Sir John answered. "No doubt, at the three points, artillery has increased in relative importance. It may take dozens of shells to get one man, but one better will get one man. The weapons which decide the day are the rifle and the machine gun and the infantry is still the queen of battles."

As a soldier speaking of his enemy, Sir John French was far from depicting the fighting qualities of the Germans. To the troops of Emperor William he paid a soldier's chivalrous tribute. "But they are no greater than other soldiers," he said. "I attribute their valor and their well disciplined cohesion to the fact that from the cradle they are taught discipline and to worship their emperor and the fatherland and that it is their duty to die for the fatherland when their emperor commands."

"As to the conduct of the Germans is it as bad as represented?" was asked of Sir John.

Germans Have Constantly Broken Rules of Warfare

"Have they consistently broken the rules of civilized warfare?" for the first time the British commander hesitated before speaking. Evidently, as a soldier, he wished to be entirely just to his enemy.

"Yes," he replied. "In many instances their conduct has been bad, very bad. I know that it has been."

This declaration was made with firm conviction. "But, it has varied. It has seemed to depend upon the commanders. If a commander approves of outrages, they occur. Yes, in the main, German conduct depends upon the character of the German generals."

"And the French army; you have been fighting as its ally for eight months; how does it compare with the German?" the correspondent asked. This seemed a happy question. "To Sir John replied:

French Still Have The Ardor of Napoleon's Time

"The French at the start were laboring under the shadow of their disastrous defeat in 1870, which might well have led both the French and the world in general to think that the German military machine was invulnerable and irresistible. The French already have learned the contrary and the world soon must, if it has not. I need not speak of their splendid generalship or their courage in driving the Germans back from the Marne. They have the clan of Napoleon's time, thanks to the spur of renewed confidence. Man for man they are better than the Germans today and their army has continually improved since the war began while the German has deteriorated."

Settlement Reached

Settlement of the differences of William Habbert against Edward Kelley over a partnership in the blacksmithing business, on Third street has been made out of court, and an entry dismissing an action instituted a few weeks ago by Habbert was filed Wednesday afternoon. Habbert has purchased Kelley's interest, and will place some one in charge of the place. ### FOOD QUESTION

Settled with Perfect Satisfaction

It's not an easy matter to satisfy all the members of the family at meal time, as every housewife knows.

And when the husband can't get ordinary food without causing trouble, the food question becomes doubly annoying.

An Illinois woman writes: "My husband's health was poor, he had no appetite for anything I could get for him. It seemed.

"He suffered severely with stomach trouble, was hardly able to work, was taking medicine continually, and as soon as he would feel better would go to work again only to give up in a few weeks.

"One day seeing an advertisement about Grape-Nuts, I got some and he tried it for breakfast the next morning.

"We all thought it was pretty good although we had no idea of using it regularly. But when my husband came home at night he asked for Grape-Nuts.

"It was the same next day and I had to get it right along, because when we would get to the table the question, 'Have you any Grape-Nuts?' was a regular thing. So I began to buy it by the dozen.

"My husband's health began to improve right along. Sometimes he'd be tired when I'd make something I thought he'd like for a change, and still hear the same old question, 'Have you any Grape-Nuts?'

"He got so well that for the last two years he has hardly lost a day from his work, and we are still using Grape-Nuts."

CANAL BUILT WITH THOUGHTS OF MAKING WHOLE WORLD KIN

San Francisco, March 25.—Characterizing the Panama-Pacific exposition as the "crystallization of the dreams and thoughts of genius and talent," Vice President Marshall late yesterday spoke at the exposition landing the state of California and the men who made the exposition possible, and in name of the president of the United States dedicated the completion in glorification of the completion of the isthmian canal. He said in part:

"I crave your sympathy, and your charity while for a brief moment I stand here commissioned to take, but not to fill, the place of the president of the United States. In justice to the day, Woodrow Wilson should be here. The office and the man would each fittingly grace this occasion. But duty said to him that justice to all the people bade him stay in Washington. You hope for continued peace. Do not forget that he is your greatest peacekeeper. May the truth that he seeks your good rather than his own or your pleasure lighten the disappointments of this hour. Before the unsel bell shall proclaim the close of this marvel of the twentieth century, the president of the United States hopes to meet you face to face.

Waterway Dedicated To Ideal of the Republic
"Ourselves I am here in the name of the president of the United States to dedicate this exposition in glorification of the completion of the canal. Really that waterway from its beginning was dedicated to the ideas and ideals of the republic.

"Here men of every age and every clime behold the boundary of the world's accomplishment, the crystallization of the dreams and thoughts of genius and of talent. May we not hope that here a thought-drawn will be born that shall not cease to broaden until at its meridian light all men around the world are one?"

COUNCIL TAKES ANOTHER WHIRL AT THAT INTAKE

City council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night arrived at a somewhat clearer understanding as to where responsibility really rested in paving the way for payment of the Nicola Building company's claims for extra on its water works sub-division but action was deferred in the absence of a full attendance.

Member Shump was out of the city. Mr. Schmidt, detained at home because of the death of his father and Mr. Wilson failed to show up, leaving only a bare quorum present, consisting of President Osborn and Messrs. Guller, Maeller and Westphal.

W. W. Watson, resident engineer of the J. F. Witmer company of Buffalo, N. Y., submitted in writing the report Engineer Witmer had made verbally at the last meeting attesting to the fact that unexpected conditions made it impossible to build a 36-inch cast-iron pipe intake and that he had approved and authorized change to a 42-inch concrete intake, that to have waited on new legislation and plans would have entailed an enormous expenditure of money and unnecessarily delayed bringing water into the city. The communication closed with the request by Mr. Witmer that council ratify the change made in the plans. Attached to the report were the original blueprints of the change in plans.

Thanks City Got Good Service Given

Justice A. Z. Blair, counsel for the Nicola company, now addressed council. He said he had not had the time to carefully examine the report but as he read it struck him as full and complete. He believed the city had gotten water in shorter time and in greater quantity and had assigned a plant as any city he knew of. He believed the undertaking well managed and that the Nicola company had rendered exceptional service to the city.

The judge said that there had been some complaint heard about small items charged by the company against the city. These had been taken up with the service department and satisfactorily explained and the only question now to be considered by council was whether or not to accept the change in plans. He said the engineer's report telling of quick sand and other conditions had justified the change to the concrete intake. Part of the conditions were such that they could not have been ascertained with the most thorough research. He believed the former board of control had acted honestly and fairly in ordering the change.

Osborn Alters
His Attitude

Chairman Osborn now expressed the belief that the present board of control should not be chargeable with the change that had been made in the plans. When it came to a question of figures it was a different thing.

Judge Blair agreed with this view, saying the present board had a duty to perform but should not be called upon to approve some thing not to be else had charge of. He suggested that council appoint a committee to wait upon the former board of control and secure its written approval of the change. Chairman Osborn agreed this would be a logical move and that the present board could then pass upon the efficiency of the change and what the cost should be.

The mayor confined himself to remarking that the city board of control was an administrative body and only going to carry out the wishes of council and nothing else.

Mr. Guller Expresses
His Personal Opinion

Mr. Guller thought that the contractors had run their figures high enough at the time of the letting to run a stone tunnel out into the river and Mr. Witmer was well aware of it.

Further discussion was ended by a motion to receive and file Mr. Witmer's report.

Service Director Gergens reported that F. L. Marling had called his attention to the fact that there had been a gap left in the paving of Twentieth street, due to some posts left in the middle of the street by Jacob Zaph and thought something should be done to relieve this condition. He referred to street committee and service department.

Wants Wires
Placed Underground

Mr. Gergens also reported that the N. & W. railway was insisting upon the street railway company placing underground, across its right of way, the electric light wires supplying the city pumping station because a break might interfere with its block system and cause danger of wrecks. He said the change would cost about $150 and Mr. York felt that the city should bear half of this expense, referred to the railroad committee.

A verbal petition asking for an extension of the Stockham sewer, between Ninth and Tenth street to the first alley east of its present terminus, west of Officers street, was referred to the service department.

Water At Third & Chillicothe

Mr. Gergens reported having received a petition signed by Chillicothe street business men asking relief against water standing at the intersection of Third and Chillicothe streets. He estimated that the cost of making required changes would be $160 and thought the street railway company would bear part of the expense.

Mr. Osborn suggested that the placing of concrete ties might afford some permanent relief and recalled that the condition at this corner had been a source of contention during his whole seven years in council. He thought that the city had an ordinance requiring the street railway company to make certain repairs and did not believe in continually begging the company to do things. The petition was referred to the engineer for an estimate.

Mr. Maeller presented a verbal petition asking for water main extensions and service in Cecil S. Miller's new Rosemary addition and it was referred to the service department.

Park Avenue
Residents Protest

Mr. Guller reported that a number of Park avenue residents were present and anxious to be heard, relative to the improvement of that thoroughfare. Nicholas Gallenstein took the floor as spokesman for the visitors. He said that the property owners of the street were opposed to paying the street in the manner outlined by City Engineer Wilhelm which intended lightening the traffic for firemen, business men and others and at the same time burden the traffic for those living on the street. He said the plans contained a cut of from 2 to 5 feet, which meant a 5 foot embankment between the sidewalk and street and would necessitate steps in front of every property. He recalled how this would inconvenience the housewives, the dangers it would mean to children in case of runaways, etc., and the additional expense it would mean to the property owners. He said the city had always seemed fair in its public improvements and should be the same now with Park avenue residents by paying the street at its present grade. He said it would cost them 40 per cent foot as it was. He concluded by saying that only a small committee had come to protest but it necessary a big delegation should ready to come before council.

Mr. Guller raised the point that council could only provide the means for the improvement and that the plans were a matter for the board of control to decide. James Starling assured council that Park avenue property owners all favored the improvement of the street but were opposed to a cut that would inconvenience them. He for one said he was the only one on the street possessing an automobile, had spent $35 for constructing a 9 ft. driveway and knew he could not climb a 5 ft. embankment with the machine through a 4 ft. space.

Chairman Osborn now called attention to the fact that no formal legislation had as yet been presented and that the matter was still in the hands of the engineer and service director and that it would be well for the property

Engineer Wilhelm
On Park Avenue

Engineer Wilhelm now took the floor and said the object he had outlined was to accommodate the traffic from Robinson avenue to Grant street, Lincoln street, he said, was on a very much less grade than Park avenue which is 8 per cent and which he had wanted to cut to 6 per cent. He said he did not want to work any hardship on any property owner but expressed the belief that the plan he had outlined would have benefited the street.

Chairman Osborn at this juncture declared that the wishes of the property owners ought to be considered.

The mayor assured the delegation that it was the sense of the board of control to canvass the property owners before anything was done and coincide with their wishes in every respect as they were the ones who had to pay for the improvement.

Mr. Osborn also assured the visitors that they had done the right and proper thing by coming in early and said he felt quite sure it would work out satisfactorily. Mr. Wilhelm said he had spoken to Mr. Mauser and a few other property owners regarding the improvement and asked him to see the others, adding amid much laughter: "I guess he must have seen them."

Mrs. Martha E. Board, the only woman member of the delegation, when called upon, said the deepest cut in the street would perhaps be located in front of her home. She could not see that this would be a disadvantage, as it would be the benefit of the street and as far as she herself was concerned, said she preferred having access to her own home rather than to the cemetery.

Rev. Edwin Townsend, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Trenton, was the speaker at the third of a series of special Lenten services held at the First Presbyterian church in this city Wednesday evening. He chose as his subject, "The Second Coming of Christ."

Three essential points were brought out in Rev. Townsend's sermon: First, that the second coming of Christ was certain; second, that no one knows the time of his coming; and third, that every one should be prepared for his coming. His sermon was interesting and profitable and made an excellent impression upon the large audience that attended.

a return made to the Kendall avenue subway plan.

Mr. Guller took exceptions to some usage of the word elimination quoted in the letter from the city council records. He said the street committee had never recommended the elimination of the Kendall avenue crossing but did recommend the overhead crossing in preference to a subway. He said the committee had always cleared of Mr. Bauman on "the elimination." The idea was not originated by us, but was brought about by the railroad, not for the city's interests, but simply because it needed sixteen or more tracks, which would be impossible if we had insisted on an underground crossing," said Mr. Guller, adding that the railway officials realized that they would have to bear the cost of all of the vast necessary that would be required. Continuing, he said the committee had told them they could close the crossing, but that this was a matter between them and the citizens.

Clark Gallenstein now explained to council that Attorney Bauman had lately spent considerable time examining the records on the subject and that these had been quoted correctly in the letter. Mr. Gallenstein said all legislation on the subject had been designed with a view to eliminating the grade crossing and that such was in the opinion the primary object of the overhead crossing. Chairman Osborn thought it well enough to read the letter at this time and give it publicity anyway. The letter was a review on all legislation pertaining to the underground and overhead plans, cited the N. & W. and R. & D. S. W. rights to the Kendall avenue crossing and said it was past the understanding of the officials as to why the city should want to return to the subway plan, after having spent $8,000 for an overhead crossing. It went into details in showing the disadvantages of the underground crossing as against the advantages of the overhead plan and declared the company could, and would not proceed with the building of the viaduct unless council passed the resolution agreeing not to interfere with the elimination of Kendall avenue grade crossing. The letter was ordered placed on file.

Clark Gallenstein read a communication from Chief Engineer J. E. Crawford of the N. & W. railway, in reply to the formal notice that unless the company proceeded with the building of the overhead crossing by April 25th all legislation on the subject would be repealed and

WILL START A HEALTH CAMP

No nearer for tuberculosis cases in Scioto county in 1915.

This is the slogan of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society of Scioto county, it was announced Thursday by Judge Ball.

"We will need about $1,500 to carry out a program along this line, but we anticipate no trouble in raising this sum annually for this good cause. In other cities a program of this character is worked out admirably and there is no reason why we should not put it in fine working order here," said Judge Ball today. New York was the first city to adopt the slogan and the movement has spread to many other progressive cities," he said.

Judge Ball also stated today that a camp near the city would be established this summer for persons who are afflicted with lung trouble in incipient stages. It will be equipped with modern methods of fighting this disease and will be kept in running order through the summer and fall months.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society will ask the members of the High School to repeat their production of "The Struggle to Conquer" the proceeds to be turned over to the funds needed to put their plans underway.

NEGRO ATTEMPTED TO ASSAULT WHITE GIRL

Russell, Ky., March 25—Excitement was at fever heat last night in Russell, when it became generally known that Miss Gertrude McKenzie, aged 15, of East Russell, was attacked by a negro hobo, who attempted to ravish her. It seems that Miss McKenzie had gone out into the yard of her home just after dark last evening when she was seized by the negro and she at once began to scream wildly. Her assailant became alarmed and fled before he was able to accomplish his heinous purpose.

Miss McKenzie's screams attracted neighbors at her family and neighbors, and the report of the assault spread rapidly throughout the town. Marshal Barnhart was summoned, but was away from home on business and Detective Hovory responded. He trailed the man for a distance, but lost him and returned for his bloodhounds.

The bloodhounds took up the trail immediately and led the detective and a posse to a large stack pile where the negro was seen to dart out of the shadows and flee into the hill. Detective Hovory fired five times at the fleeing man and thinks that one of the bullets from his rifle hit him.

The rolling of a tin in the cellar of her home caused Mrs. Minnie A. Satterfield, of No. 707 Third street, to suspect burglars were paying a return visit and she sent in a bureau call for police Wednesday night.

Mrs. Satterfield and her young son, James Alton Satterfield, had just retired when frightened by the noise. Police Sergeant James Marshall made a thorough search of the premises and found everything in order, save the tin, which had swung out of its place, causing the noise that was heard by the occupants of the house.

Just a week ago Mrs. Satterfield and son surprised a burglar in their home. They had just unlocked the front door upon their return home when they heard noises in the rear. She went to investigate and saw a man's hand extending through the cellarway. The next instant she was struck on the head with a club and pushed back. The fellow bolting from the doorway between the kitchen and cellar, and was seen by neighbors to join a mob to standing in a nearby alley holding a sack. It developed that James Alton's savings bank, containing seven dollars in change, was missing from its place in the front room, while a sack of potatoes and some eggs were gone from the cellar. It was thought that the negro had entered the house some time during the day and searched himself in the cellar.

Dr. Leighton At All Saints Church

The pulpit of All Saints' church has been occupied during its long history by many famous scholars and orators, but it is a question whether it has ever afforded hospitable greeting to a greater scholar than the priest who is to speak from it tomorrow evening in the person of Joseph Alexander Leighton, head professor in the department of philosophy at Ohio State university. The learned doctor has had a most brilliant career. As a graduate in the school of arts at Trinity College, Toronto, he took first class honors in science and philosophy and was awarded the governor general's gold medal. Between 1891 and 1897 he specialized in philosophy at Harvard and then at the famous German universities of Berlin and Erlangen. He graduated in divinity at the Cambridge Theological school in 1906 and was ordained a priest by the bishop of Western New York in 1898. He has been curate of Grace church, New York; chaplain and professor at Hobart college and was university preacher at Cornell from 1900 to 1907.

Friendship

This was the subject upon which the pastor of Chelleville addressed the congregation of All Saints' church on Wednesday evening. The speaker's discussion of his topic was very complete and he quotes extensively from Holy scripture the classics and the poets in illustration of his theme. There was a good congregation.

Chester Wallace is completely remodeling and repainting the J. M. Augustin property on Third street near Washington, which he purchased some weeks ago.

TERRIBLE CONDITION IN PERSIA

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE CRUELLY MASSACRED

15,000 SHELTERED AT AMERICAN MISSION

Tiflis, Wednesday, March 24 (via Petrograd and London, Mar. 25)—Telegram and letters reaching here from Urumiah, in north-western Persia, describe the situation of the American Presbyterian mission station there as desperate. Turkish regular troops and Kurds are persecuting and massacring Assyrian Christians. Harry P. Eckford, the physician of the missionary station at Urumiah of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church, risked his life in a successful effort to prevent a frightful massacre at Geogtappa where 3,000 Assyrians made their last stand. They had fought for three days and all their ammunition was gone. At this juncture Dr. Eckford unfurled an American flag and advanced between the lines. His act resulted in the saving of all but 200 of the Assyrians who had been burned in a church. Christians Take Refuge At American Mission

Fifteen thousand Assyrian Christians have taken refuge under the protection of the American mission station, while 2,000 are at the French mission. A dispatch received at Tiflis from Urumiah yesterday declared that 50 Turkish regular troops had entered the mission, hanged the Orthodox bishop, Mar Elias and four Orthodox clergymen, and insulted a missionary named Allen. Shortly before, the sixty refugees had been dragged from the French mission and executed in spite of the fearful pleas of the nuns. Men, Women And Babies Are Atrociously Murdered

At Gulpushan the Kurds were particularly cruel. This was the last of a total of 103 Assyrian villages to hold out and it was occupied a month ago. The Kurds ordered all the Assyrian men into the streets, tied them in groups of five, marched them to the grave yard and killed them barbarously. To the last boy. Girl babies and older women were then executed with great atrocity while the younger women were carried away as slaves. As a result of the war 12,000 Assyrians are taking refuge in the Caucasus home, 17,000 are described as in imminent danger at the Urumiah mission, while 20,000 are dead or missing. Furthermore much property has been destroyed. The Assyrians fought their assailants bravely and as

HUNTINGTON TEAM ROLLS 'EM TODAY

Peoria, Ill., March 25—Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia bowlers led in each of the three events at the American Bowling Congress today. Poor scores have been rolled during the last two days by teams from which much was expected. Yesterday no one in the five men event came within 150 points of the Harry Kettler mark of 2,997. Walter Cook, of Philadelphia, is leading with 897. E. Kelly, of Toledo, rolled into eighth place with 840, and A. J. Lewis, of Chicago, took tenth position with 637.

Teams from Chicago, St. Louis, Madison, Wis., Mishawaka, Ind., Syracuse, Huntington, W. Va., Lexington, Ky., Pueblo, Indianapolis, Chattanooga, Denver, Knoxville, Tenn., and Detroit will hold the all-boys today.

MIGHTIEST SEA FIGHTER OF THE BRITISH NAVY BOMBARDING DARDANELLES FORTS

The Queen Elizabeth of the British navy, the most powerful battleship in the world now in service, has shown the remarkable value of its long range 15-inch guns, which enabled the ship to keep out of the range of the Turkish guns and at the same time shell the defenses. The Queen Elizabeth has a displacement of 27,500 tons and her main armament consists of eight 15-inch guns and sixteen 6-inch guns. Her speed is twenty-five knots and she has the largest range of any ship known.

PRESIDENT WILSON GIVES UP EFFORT TO SETTLE OHIO STRIKE

Washington, March 25—President Wilson will take no further steps to bring about arbitration of the Eastern Ohio coal strike pending the outcome of the effort being made to pass a bill through the Ohio legislature permitting operators and miners to make contracts on the split rate basis. The President, it became known

DOGS GOT A TASTE BUT MEN ONLY GAZED ON

Charleston, W. Va., March 25—A crowd of thirsty onlookers gazed regretfully with near tears in their eyes, at Prohibition Officer Curry yesterday afternoon when he came down from the office of Justice Dering with a suitcase full of whiskey and one by one opened the pint bottles and poured the contents into the street. No one dared interfere with the officer while he was in the discharge of his duties, fearing they would be arrested and such a charge placed against them, but all the thirsty had the same feeling.

INTERURBAN JITNEY CARS

Cleveland, March 25—Jitney busses may not be confined to operations of an urban nature but may be extended to cover the interurban field, according to F. E. Phelps, of Cleveland, president of a Toledo company who today announced that auto busses may be operated regularly between Cleveland and Toledo. A trial run is to be made to Toledo today. If the plan proves profitable, it was stated, the fare will be $1.75 as against $2.15 on a steam or electric line.

MARSHALL CHARACTERIZES PANAMA PACIFIC EXPO. AS CRYSTALIZATION OF DREAMS & THOUGHTS OF GENIUS

CANAL BUILT WITH THOUGHTS OF MAKING WHOLE WORLD KIN

San Francisco, March 25.—Characterizing the Panama-Pacific exposition as the "crystallization of the dreams and thoughts of genius and talent," Vice President Marshall late yesterday spoke at the exposition lauding the state of California and the men who made the exposition possible, and in name of the president of the United States dedicated the exposition in glorification of the completion of the Isthmian canal. He said in part: "I crave your sympathy and your charity while for a brief moment I stand here commissioned to take, but not to fill, the place of the president of the United States. In justice to the day, Woodrow Wilson should be here. The office and the man would each fittingly grace this occasion. But duty said to him that justice to all the people bade him stay in Washington. You hope for continued peace. Do not forget that he is your greatest peace-maker. May the truth that he seeks your good rather than his own or your pleasure lighten the disappointments of this hour. Before the sunset bell shall proclaim the close of this marvel of the twentieth century, the president of the United States hopes to meet you face to face. Exposition Record of The People of California "California is a state of mystery, of seeming madness and method, a state replete with art, science, literature, law, order, and material prosperity of marvelous accomplishment. What others took to be the mutterings of a mighty man in sleep, she has made the all-compelling language of her people. This exposition had to be to justify in the mind of man the potency of dreams and visions over mere material things. It is in consonance with the record of this people. Sometimes in the hurrying rush of restless men it had to be, but it came sooner than it otherwise would have come, because some one dreamed that here in this sun-kissed clime there lay the seven cities of Cibola. "Surely he should not be charged with being merely poetic in mind who on this occasion boldly declares that California is the product of a dream and that this exposition is the composite photograph of dreamers. The seven cities of Cibola have become seventy-and-seven cities of culture, wealth and character. The dream of the Anian trail has become a reality, south of Mexico it is true, but nevertheless a reality called the Panama canal. Canal Built With Desire To Make Whole World Kin "I am sure I express the thought of the president and the hope of the American people when I say that our canal was built not (Continued on Page 4.)

ALLEGES VICE TRUST MADE BIG PROFITS ON 2,000 WHITE SLAVES

New York, March 25—Mortch Goldberg, whose arraignment was on the calendar today in the court of special sessions, is accused of being an official of a vice trust which maintained more than forty resorts in this city, controlled nearly 2,000 inmates, and divided $1,250,000 a year profits. The district attorney's office has evidence that this alleged combine paid protection.

ANOTHER EFFORT TO SAVE BECKER'S LIFE

Albany, N. Y., March 25—Another effort to save the life of former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, of New York, who is under sentence of death for instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, was made before the court of appeals late yesterday.

2,000,000 BUSHEL OF COAL AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 25—Owing to the unusually dry weather the past six weeks, local rivers are the lowest in years for the month of March, which is generally regarded as a high water month. Two million bushels of coal loading on barges, awaits a sufficient rise in the Ohio river to be taken south. The last shipment of coal by boat was made from here on March 4.

NOTED AUTHOR OF SHORT SEA STORIES IS DEAD

New York, March 25—Morgan Robertson, who was found dead in his room in a hotel in Atlantic City last night, had a romantic career as a sailor, author, jeweler and inventor of a submarine periscope. He was one of the most prolific writers of short sea stories. American has produced. Running away from his home in Oswego, N. Y., when 16 years old, he shipped as a cabin boy and made two voyages around the world, occupying in the next ten years nearly every post on shipboard.

Returning to America he made his home in New York and became a watchmaker and diamond setter, but after two years in which he said he was "almost constantly broke" he began to write his sea stories which have been familiar to all readers of periodicals for 20 years. Although he wrote more than two hundred stories which have been published, in fourteen volumes, he recently asserted in an unsigned autobiography that he had been reduced to straightened circumstances. Friends were making an attempt to aid him at the time of his death. Mr. Robertson was 64 years old. Among the best known of his stories are "Sinful Peck," "Pinnegra" and "Patilly."

WOMAN IS SHOT AS SPY

Lunenburg, France, March 25—Marguerite Schmitt, a French woman sentenced to death as a spy after being court-martialed, was shot yesterday after the troops of the garrison had been drawn up to witness the execution. ## Play House Team Gets Good Workout, Defeat "Wonders"

Before a large crowd of rooters and well wishers, the Play House team, trimmed by the Williams Wonders at the Play House last night, winning the match by a large and comfortable margin, although the Wonders had the satisfaction of coping the last game.

In only one game did Captain Barlow of the Peoria team perform. He desired to get a line on his men and, consequently, laid out of the first and second games. His phenomenal scores were made and the total being up by the Play House would not give the boys a very large chunk of mazzuma in the A. B. C. However, the work out was satisfactory, splits occurring at times that kept the players, who kept plugging away as though their lives depended upon the result. Fred Prediger was the best worker for the Play House, he gathering a total of 573 pins. Sheridan came next with 560. Fred Prediger also had the satisfaction of turning in the top heavy score of the evening when he changed into the number for 223. Fred was in rare good form last night, being one of the coolest chips imaginable and at the final under five.

A spirit of good feeling permeated the atmosphere from start to finish, the Wonders encouraging their opponents at every bend in the road. Never has a team had such a good will as the Play House aggregation that will roll into the colors of Portsmouth at the National Tournament. The scores:

WORRY CAUSED HIS DEATH

LOUIS VAN ZELST

Louis was the smiling mascot of the Athletics, many times champion in baseball, and never did a mascot serve a team more faithfully. Louis died Sunday from spinal trouble, aggravated by his worry over the defeat of his team last fall for the championship of the world. On the playing field Louis had got to be a figure almost as well known as Connie Mack himself.

TINKER RISES TO REMARK

Shreveport, La., March 25.—There will never be a pennant winning Cincinnati team until it has a Tinker. The Tinkers are the reason.

Stephen's life is a man and pays him a big salary to make a pennant-winning team, but in reality he has as little authority as a bat boy.

TO STAGE FIGHT ON SUNDAY, APRIL 4

Havana, March 25.—Last week marked the eighteenth anniversary of the greatest upset in the world of pugilism during two decades. Just 8 years ago, on St. Patrick's Day, at Carson City, Nev., Robert Fitzsimmons, a scrawny middleweight, wrestled the heavyweight championship of the world from James J. Corbett and upset every matter of form that ever had surrounded the prize ring.

Since that time the world's title has changed four times; the battles taking place all the way from Reno, Nev., to Australia. Strange to say, three of the greatest heavyweight battles of the age have taken place in the state of Nevada, which is more sparsely settled than any other state in the United States.

Now, the seventh great battle within twenty years will take place on Sunday April 4, in Havana, Cuba, a city heretofore almost unknown as a pugilistic center.

For the first time in his career Jack Johnson is opposed to a man younger, stronger, possessing greater reach and height and greater punching power. The negro is in his thirty-ninth year. Willard is in his twenty-eighth.

Fans Are Pleased

Fans in this man's town are glad to learn that Dick Smith will again pilot the Trenton Railors through what was hope will be a successful season. Smith is familiar with every angle of the game, can weather the all gloom and should be a first division club in Trenton. Smith was a couple of pennants for the Springfield, 1, team and he hopes to plant a pennant in Trenton next fall.

Better Hold Job, Herzie

(Cincinnati Times-Star)

In the multitude of rumors and unfounded gossip that is going on in one interesting corner. Among the fans it seems that the opinion is that should Herzie, resign, if the Chicago season is to be given the managerial job. (Presumably, also, the name of Tom Leach is heard. Leach at one time aspired to be manager, probably would have been given a trial if a deal with the Pittsburgh club could have been arranged.

REDS TO MAKE SHIFTS

Chicago, March 25.—Shifts of two managers and deals involving the transfer of a dozen players are pending in the Federal league according to a story published here today.

Although James A. Gilmore, president of the league, declined to say what changes are contemplated, it was said that George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City club and William Phillips, leader of the Indianapolis club which is to be transferred in Newark, N. J., are to exchange positions.

Collins Is Bit Chesty

Eddie Collins, of the White Sox, says he is going to hit around the 310 mark this season and that he will start at first base. Well, if he kicks in with this kind of playing, the White Sox should think well up in the American league race.

Southworth Is Hitting

In practice game at Thomasville, Ga., where the Cleveland Beercats are training Billy Southworth lined out two doublers and a single. It looks like Southworth is in good and if he had ankle holds up he will more than likely go right on into the big show before "the frost is on the pumpkin."

Many Are After Jobs

Chillicothe, March 25.—Manager Devereaux has received about a dozen letters from ball players all over the country asking for a job. It means that the youngsters are anxious to catch on here under Devereaux as they think his experience will be a great help to them. This is true, for Devereaux knows all the finer points of the game and will be an excellent man for developing young players. After a man has worked for Manager Devereaux of the New York Giants for six years, he knows something about the game, and this is what Devereaux has done.

Evansville To Have Stadium

Evansville, Ind., March 25.—With twenty-two players signed, including seven who were members of the 1914 team, the Evansville baseball club, here to day, is ready to start the practice season for 1915 on March 31, the day set for reporting. In addition to the players already under contract, President Harry Stahlhofer is after an experienced infielder and another experienced pitcher if some of the youngsters fail to make good.

Work is being pushed on the new athletic stadium here and by July 1 the Evansville ball club will be housed in one of the finest minor league parks in the country.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

MEN'S NIGHT BROUGHT OUT SPLENDID AUDIENCE

The largest crowd since Sunday night greeted Rev. Lloyd Stricker Wednesday night at the Trinity revival.

It was men's night and one section was not only reserved for the men but was filled by them. Tonight (Thursday) is women's night and all members whose initials are G. or H. are urged to work for a large attendance. All indications point to record breaking congregation at 7:15 this evening. Everybody is welcome at Trinity, a home-like church. The minister's subject is "A Woman's Wise Way."

Rev. Stricker preached Wednesday evening from the age old truth: "Do not deceive; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Paul had said that a man earnestly trying to be a Christian would fall in sin, but we should not discourage him for we ourselves may fall just when we feel the safest. We are imperfect in ourselves and we all have our own load to carry.

If a farmer sows wheat, he expects to reap wheat. What he sows he always reaps. We get what we sow in nature yet some doubt this when applied to moral issues of life. Some think they can sow to the flesh and reap of the spirit. It can't be done.

Some people say: "Let the young man sow his wild oats," but no young man can sow wild oats without reaping a harvest of the same; no one can sow a whirlwind without reaping a whirlwind and many a person carries the marks of wild oat sowing with them to their graves.

When will we realize that God sees us at our worst—no matter how dark the night, and no man is better than God sees him in the dark. "That will he also reap." The law is true in moral things as in nature. If a man sows of the flesh he will reap the same only more, my many fold. What will the future of your life be? You are sowing. This life from day to day determines your character, and your character determines your destiny. No man can change his destiny without help from God. I'll tell you what your future will be if you will tell me the kind of seed you are sowing.

Not alone the outspoken sinners go to perdition, but any and all who are so engrossed in business or pleasure as to ignore his commands, and there are thousands doing this very thing; they are sowing to the flesh and they will reap perdition, and what will it profit a man if he gain the whole and lose his own soul?

But the sowing rule works both ways: "The man that soweth unto the Spirit shall reap everlasting life." What kind of a harvest are you going to reap? If you are sowing of the Spirit, when you come to the end there will be no fear for God will take you by the hand and lead you safely to the other side. It is worth while to sow of the Spirit.

GOOD NEWS

Many Portsmouth Readers Have Heard it and Profited Thereby

"Good news travels fast," and the bad news sufferers in Portsmouth are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak, and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Dan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

Lena Helbig, 825 Tenth St., Portsmouth, says: "My back was lame and my kidneys were weak. When I was sweeping the floor, sharp twinges darted through the small of my back and I could hardly work. The kidney secretions were unnatural. I often had such bad spells I almost fell over; I had to put my hand on a chair to steady myself. I suffered in that way for about three months when I read how Dan's Kidney Pills had cured someone else, so I got a box at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, and began taking them. The first box gave me relief and I used one more and was completely cured."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dan's Kidney Pills—the same that Lena Helbig had. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salls before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with acid which the kidneys filter out. If they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues degenerate and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health. When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Salls. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous Salls is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and eliminate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Salls is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing agent.

A CINCINNATI EXAMPLE

Business men of Cincinnati are alive to the advantages of standing together for the common good of the city, and they have inaugurated a movement to buy and handle Cincinnati made goods wherever possible. They had what they called a "Get-to-gether" dinner the other night at which were souvenirs made by Cincinnati firms, handled by Cincinnati merchants and used by Cincinnati consumers. Yet while our friends in Cincinnati were impressing upon each other the importance of patronizing each other, many of our citizens were spending Portsmouth money in Cincinnati, money that could just as well have been spent in Portsmouth with home manufacturers and merchants.

Just think of the Portsmouth made articles that you can buy. There are ladies, misses, boys and men's shoes, there are coal and gas ranges, and stoves, gas engines and refrigerating plants, furniture of all kinds, underwear for ladies and men, galvanized iron roofing, mantels of all kinds for the home, shoe strings, paving brick for road and other work, and dozens of other articles. Supposing now that when you went out to buy, you would inquire into whether or not you could be suited by a Portsmouth made article. Maybe you could find just what you want and thus you would encourage the manufacturers just that much and help things along. Even if you were not able to find what you wanted, you would show your interest in your home town, and that would be something.

But getting back to first principles, whatever you buy, as a loyal citizen of Portsmouth, you owe it to her to try and spend all the money you can with the business men of the town. It may be that you will be unable to get exactly what you want, but you will find that Portsmouth merchants will be only too glad to send away and get something to suit your tastes. And you will also find that not only will you save money, but you will help everybody along just that much.

CONTRACTOR NOT RESPONSIBLE.

Our business organizations have taken hold of that Chillicothe pike temporary road proposition with commendable promptness and we are hopeful that the county commissioners will meet them half way. It is just as easy to have a good temporary road as a bad one and the cost need be but little more. Portsmouth and citizens of the county have suffered enough from bad roads and the time has come for a decided change in conditions.

And it should be borne in mind that this new road will have to be used until September under the most favorable circumstances. With bad weather, it will be needed until November or December. So it is not a very temporary proposition at that.

In this connection, The Times wishes to set Contractor Burns right. We were under the impression that he was building the temporary road as a part of his paving contract, but we learn that he had nothing to do with the road that is being built around the paving. The temporary roadway is being built under the supervision of the commissioners, and the contractor has nothing whatever to do with it. As we do not wish to do any one injustice, we make this statement in justice to the contractor.

WHEN MEN WERE GAY AND DASHING.

Recalling an old time funeral at Oak Hill, Editor Williams, of the Jackson Standard Journal, says that T. J. Davis remembers the funeral because on that day he wore one of the new hats that had just come into fashion and which had "a small looking glass pasted into the crown, into which one could look without attracting attention." Editor Williams further says, "I had to laugh when I remembered those hats for there was a time when the boys were wild about them. I have not seen one for 40 years. Did you ever wear one?"

Reading this and, in reading other old time magazines and books, it seems to us that 40 and 50 years ago men paid a lot more attention to dress than they do nowadays. The old magazines of the 40's and 50's devote quite as much attention to proper dress for men as they do to the clothes of womankind. The well dressed man of those days must have been a fearful and wonderful sight. He had everything about him from a hat mirror to a powder rag, from a high, high hat to a swell, swell cane, and he strutted about the land with all the glory of a peacock, quite putting the women into the shade in comparison with his magnificence.

Those grand old times have gone, never to return. Instead of purple and fine linen, the men of today are figuring whether they will buy their $0.99's out of town or from the home merchants.

REJOICE WITH IRONTON.

Ironton has been in a state of alarm over reports that the D. T. & I. railroad was going to compel 100 employees and their families to move from Ironton to Jackson, where rumor had it the railroad was going to establish its general headquarters. However, the rumor is denied by D. T. & I. officials and Ironton breathes easier. We congratulate the old suburb up the Ohio. The loss of 100 families at a swoop is a blow not to be sneezed at by any town and so long as we are going to have the pleasure of swatting Ironton off the map on the base ball diamond this summer we do not want anything to happen to cause her to quit before she gets started.

HAD DELIGHTFUL VISIT.

We enjoyed a most delightful visit Wednesday afternoon from a former popular Portsmouth resident, Mr. David Thurlow, who is now enjoying a well earned retirement after having served faithfully and well the B. & O. railroad system as freight and passenger conductor for 44 years. Mr. Thurlow is now living in Norwood and he came up to Portsmouth to be present at the Masonic festivities tonight. In other days Mr. Thurlow was most active in Portsmouth business and social life, and he has scores of old-time friends here who will be glad to know that he is in pretty good health and is determined to get the most out of life.

We were glad indeed to have Mr. Thurlow call upon us and we sincerely hope that his days may be long in the land and filled with happiness and sunshine.

EXCUSABLE PROFANITY.

Our own idea of an occasion for excusable profanity is when you hustle out of your warm bed and patter in your bare little feet over the cold, cold floors at five o'clock in the morning to answer the insistent ringing of the telephone, and then, after you have been asked what your number is, being told that it is the wrong number. It is really astonishing the different kinds of horrible and atrocious punishments one can conjure up for the disturber of the sweet dreams of early morning slumber.

NOTHING BUT MONEY.

(Youngstown Telegram.)
 A Philadelphian, supposed to be a millionaire, has killed himself, leaving a note saying: "I ruined my health piling up my fortune; now I am bankrupt, and there is nothing left for me to live for."

The case of the Philadelphian was not an exceptional one, save that he ended his life by suicide. He was no more blind than those who saw and envied his prosperity—prosperity of a sort which left him a physical bankrupt. Many men obsessed with the idea that happiness rests solely in the accumulation of wealth have lived to learn that the man who works in a ditch and emerges with health and an appetite for a New England dinner is better off than those who must break off work in middle life to consult specialists in hope of learning the trick of digesting a soft-boiled egg.

The Philadelphian deserves credit, however, for not taking someone else off the earth when he decided it was a place of misery and woe. Too many with impaired digestions become afflicted with homicidal tendencies and try to kill others.

MOTHER MCGREW AND HER FAMILY

Said Mother McGrew to her family one day: "They've opened a picture show over the way, And if you are as good as sun, possibly be, I'll take you to see it this evening," said she.

The animals said, "We will surely be good." And they scampered around just as fast as they could. The Cat said: "This minute I'll dust the whole house." "And I'll do the dishes at once," said the mouse.

The Dog said, "I'll go and clean up the back yard." In fact, all the animals worked very hard. You see they all felt that a treat was in store, For they never had been to the movies before.

That evening old Mother McGrew said, "Well go, If you'll promise to act very nice at the show." They said, "We will be good as gold, we declare." So they set out at once and were very soon there.

They marched in and sat down in the very front row. And hadn't been there but a minute or so When the pictures began and there came on the screen The fiercest young Bull-Dog they ever had seen.

His look was so cross that at very first sight You knew that young Bull-Dog was aching to fight; And most of the family of Mother McGrew Were scared half to death; I don't blame them, do you?

But the Dog of the family got up in a rage Before they could stop him and jumped on the stage. Said he to the Bull-Dog, "Now, what do you mean?" And then he stopped short; he'd run into the screen!

Old Mother McGrew took him home there and then. Said she, "You'll not come to the movies again." And from that day to this, so far as I know, Dogs are not allowed at a cinema show.

CAR REPAIRER IS GROUND TO PIECES BY ENGINE

Had To Use Derrick To Extricate Body Of Unfortunate Man

C. Floyd Stephenson, aged 24 years, a car repairer of No. 2307 Eighth street, met death in frightful form when he was ground to pieces under the wheels of a switch-engine at the N. & W. Terminals, East Portsmouth, Thursday morning at 7:45 o'clock.

Stephenson had been engaged in repairing a dump car at the east end of Reppir Track No. 3 in the east bound yards and was trying to straighten a rod when he stooped over to pick up an iron bar and the next instant stepped over on the shop track lead, falling to observe engine No. 842 in charge of Engineer R. G. Thomas and Conductor B. P. Fitzsimmons which was approaching slowly at the time. He was knocked down and wrapped up in the trucks and wheels of the engine tank in such a manner that it was necessary to cut the engine loose from the tender and use a derrick car to lift the tank and make it possible to extricate the dismembered body.

Coroner Dr. J. W. Daehler was immediately called and after viewing the body ordered it turned over to Undertaker Lynn. A

WEB GROWS TIGHTER ABOUT ACCUSED MAN

Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait announced Thursday morning that the special session of the grand jury, which opened Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, would probably conclude some time Thursday afternoon. Good headway was made Wednesday afternoon in the examination of witnesses.

Among the cases known to have been investigated Wednesday afternoon were the cases of W. H. Henkel, young white man charged with attempted criminal assault upon Mrs. William Barker of near Inverhill last Saturday, and Russell Williams and Milton Brown, negroes charged with the robbery of the Thompson Brothers' store at McDermott and the Hines barber shop at Lucasville. The other cases will be taken up today.

Henkel was positively identified by Mrs. Barker late Wednesday afternoon as the man who attacked her. The grand jury expressed a wish that Mrs. Barker have a look at the accused man, and Sheriff Smith was called in and notified of that desire. He accordingly took the woman to the county jail. One glance at Henkel was all she required to convince herself that he was the guilty man.

When asked if he remembered the woman, Henkel said that he had never seen her before. Mrs. Barker, however, was just as positive that Henkel was the man who mistreated her. As she looked at him, she exclaimed: "That is the man. He is the dirty dog. If I had a gun, I would kill him." Her identification is expected to prove an important link in the chain of evidence against Henkel. Cases to be examined today include those of the four men charged with the robbery of the J. M. Augustin building on Front street on the night of March 5, "Happy" Phillips, Charles Martin, Fred Taylor, and Charles Burt; Charles Mullen, charged with forgery, and probably Sam Rouns, charged with sodomy. The latter case may be continued owing to the absence of Rouns' wife, who is a material witness for the prosecution.

Indictments are anticipated in nearly every case so far made public when the report of the grand jury is made public.

Motor Washers which are being advertised by the A. Steinkamp Co., 624-526, 528 Second street are selling at $13.50, an exceptionally low price for this class of washer. Through an error which crept into the advertisement in Wednesday's Times the price read $3.50. This was absolutely incorrect.

Hour Changed

The funeral of Mrs. Barbara Rensinger has been postponed from 2:30 to 3:15 o'clock this afternoon, from the house at 1015 Ninth street as Paul Rensinger, a nephew, son of Andrew Rensinger, will not arrive from Chicago, until after the first named hour.

FAMED ORGANIST HERE TOMORROW

By the great critics of two continents, Gatty Sellers, concert organist of the Queen's Hall and Crystal Palace Music Festivals, London, England, who plays here Friday and Saturday at the Sea and Presbyterian church has been acclaimed the world's greatest descriptive organist. One writer put it succinctly when he said: "What Paderewski is to the piano, Gatty Sellers is to the organ, and it will be a musical event of the highest importance to hear the Paderewski of the organ." Even those who are not musically inclined are held spellbound, as they would be at an intense drama, by his marvellously realistic rendition of "A Storm in the Alps"—the lightning, thunder, rain and wind sounding as in real life, or "The Russian Patrol," by Rubenstein, where the realistic sounds of tramping, struggling troops are so life-like that one critic accused Mr. Sellers of carrying a company of men with him to make the sound of tramping behind the organ. Music lovers will be enchanted when they hear the world-famed artist in classical selections by the great masters—Bach and Wagner to Sir Edward Elgar and Gatty Sellers himself who is one of England's foremost composers. Mr. Sellers uses a set of Cathedral Chimes with the organ. The same program will be given which has delighted audiences averaging from five to ten thousand people in such auditoriums as Queen's Hall and Crystal Palace, London; or the Auditorium, Los Angeles, or the Mormon Tabernacle, Salt Lake City. The concert will begin sharply at 7:30 Friday evening.

"The Last Days of Pompeii" In 6 Reels Columbia Today

"The Last Days of Pompeii," acknowledged to be one of the great masterpieces in motion pictures, will play a return engagement at The Columbia this afternoon and evening for the popular price of 10 cents to adults and 5 cents to children.

You will remember that this wonderful picture was shown at the Columbia about this time last year to crowded houses and at a 25-cent admission. This is the picture showing the wonderful eruption of Vesuvius and the awful destruction of "Pompeii," just as the populace had gathered in the arena to witness the contests with the gladiators and the lions.

You will see the biggest den of ferocious lions in this picture and in any other picture ever made.

Remember, this big reduction in price from 25 cents to 10 cents for adults and 5 cents for children.

First show this afternoon at 1:30; then at 3:00 and 4:30. First evening show at 6:30; then at 8:00 and 9:30. You better come early.

To Elect Officers

Officers will be elected at the meeting of the officers and workers of the Christian Endeavor societies of the local churches called for this evening at the Second Presbyterian church for the purpose of electing a Christian Endeavor Union in this city. The preliminary plans for this organization were perfected at a meeting held last week at the First Presbyterian church.

Settlement Reached

Settlement of the differences of William Halbert against Edward Kelley over a partnership in the bluesmithing business on Third street has been made out of court, and an entry dismissing an action instituted a few weeks ago by Halbert was filed Wednesday afternoon. Halbert has purchased Kelley's interest, and will place some one in charge of the place. The dismissal of the suit terminated the office of receiver, which has been filled by John Richter ever since the suit was filed.

COUNCIL TAKES ANOTHER WHIRL AT THAT INTAKE

City council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday night arrived at a somewhat clearer understanding as to where responsibility really rested in paying the way for payment of the Nicola Building company's claims for extras on its water works subdivision but action was deferred in the absence of a full attendance.

Member Shump was out of the city, Mr. Schmaack detained at home because of the death of his father, and Mr. Wilson failed to show up, leaving only a bare quorum present, consisting of President Osborn and Messrs. Gulker, Moeller and Westphal.

W. W. Watson, resident engineer of the J. F. Wilmer company of Buffalo, N. Y., submitted in writing the report Engineer Wilmer had made verbally at the last meeting attesting to the fact that unexpected conditions made it impossible to build a 36-inch cast iron pipe intake and that he had approved and authorized change to a 42-inch concrete intake, that to have waited on new legislation and plans would have entailed an enormous expenditure of money and unnecessarily delayed bringing of water into the city. The communication closed with the request by Mr. Wilmer that council ratify the change made in the plans. Attached to the report were the original blueprints of the change in plans.

Thinks City Got Good Service Given

Judge A. Z. Blair, counsel for the Nicola company, now addressed council. He said he had not had the time to carefully examine the report but as read it struck him as full and complete. He believed the city had gotten water in shorter time and in greater quantity and had as good a plant as any city he knew of. He believed the undertaking well managed and that the Nicola company had rendered exceptional service to the city.

The judge said that there had been some complaint heard about still intels charged by the company against the city. These had been taken up with the service department and satisfactorily explained and the only question now to be considered by council was whether or not to accept the change in plans. He said the engineer's report telling of quietness and other conditions had justified the change to the concrete intake. Part of the conditions were such that they could not have been ascertained without the most thorough research. He believed the former board of control had acted honestly and fairly in ordering the change.

Osborn Alters His Attitude

Chairman Osborn now expressed the belief that the present board of control should not be charged with the change that had been made in the plans. When it came to a question of figures it was a different thing. Judge Blair agreed with this view saying the present board had a duty to perform but should not be called upon to approve something someone else had charge of. He suggested that council appoint a committee to wait upon the former board of control and secure its written approval of the change. Chairman Osborn agreed this would be a logical move and that the present board could then pass upon the efficiency of the change and what the cost should be.

The mayor confined himself to remarking that the city board of control was an administrative body and only going to carry out the wishes of council and nothing else.

Mr. Gulker Expresses His Personal Opinion

Mr. Gulker thought that the contractors had run their figures high enough at the time of the letting to run a stone tunnel out into the river and Mr. Wilmer was well aware of it. Further discussion was ended by a motion to receive and file Mr. Wilmer's report.

John M. Williams, former director of public service, was present ready to explain the former board's verbal authorization of the change in plans, but was not called upon.

Miscellaneous Business

An ordinance was passed granting Louis M. Distel permission to remove a four room cottage from upper Gallia street to a lot on Dexter avenue.

A verbal petition presented by Mr. Gulker to afford some sort of protection against the bank slides in front of the Herms place on the north side of Kinney Lane was referred to the street committee and service department.

The ordinance accepting the plan of the Buch & Snyder addition at East Portsmouth was given its second reading, not enough members being present to suspend the rules.

Service Director Gurgens reported that P. L. Marting had called his attention to the fact that there had been a gap left in the paving of Twentieth street, due to some posts left in the middle of the street by Jacob Zaph and thought something should be done to relieve this condition. Referred to street committee and service department.

Wants Wires Placed Underground

Mr. Gurgens also reported that the N. & W. railway was insisting upon the street railway company placing underground, across its right of way, the electric light wires supplying the city pumping station because a break might interfere with its block system and cause danger of wrecks. He said the change would cost about $350 and Mr. York felt that the city should bear half of this expense. Referred to the railroad committee.

A verbal petition asking for an extension of the Stockham sewer, between Ninth and Tenth street to the first alley east of its present terminus, west of Offshore street, was referred to the service department.

Water At Third & Chillicothe

Mr. Gurgens reported having received a petition signed by Chillicothe street business men asking relief against water standing at the intersection of Third and Chillicothe streets. He estimated that the cost of making required changes would be $160 and thought the street railway company would bear part of the expense.

Mr. Osborn suggested that the placing of concrete ties might afford some permanent relief and recoiled that the condition at this corner had been a source of contention during his whole seven years in council. He thought that the city had an ordinance requiring the street railway company to make certain repairs and did not believe in continually begging the company to do things. The petition was referred to the engineer for an estimate.

Mr. Moeller presented a verbal petition asking for water main extensions and service in Cecil S. Miller's new Rosemary addition and it was referred to the service department.

Park Avenue Residents Protest

Mr. Gulker reported that a number of Park avenue residents were present and anxious to be heard, relative to the improvement of that thoroughfare. Nicholas Gallenstein took the floor as spokesman for the visitors. He said that the property owners of the street were opposed to paying the traffic for those living on the street. He said the plans contemplated a cut of from 2 to 5 feet, which meant a 5 foot embankment between the sidewalk and street and would necessitate steps in front of every property. He recalled how this would inconvenience the housewives, the dangers it would mean to children in case of runaways, etc., and the additional expense it would mean to the property owners. He said the city had always seemed fair in its public improvements and should be the same now with Park avenue residents by paying the street at its present grade. He said it would cost them $6 per front foot as it was. He concluded by saying that only a small committee had come to protest but if necessary a big delegation stood ready to come before council.

Mr. Gulker raised the point that council could only provide the means for the improvement and that the plans were a matter for the board of control to decide.

James Starling assumed control that Park avenue property owners all favored the improvement of the street but were opposed to a cut that would inconvenience them. He for one said he was the only one on the street possessing an automobile, had spent $35 for constructing a 9 ft. driveway and knew he could not climb a 5 ft. embankment with the machine through a 4 ft. space.

Chairman Osborn now called attention to the fact that no formal legislation had as yet been presented and that the matter was still in the hands of the engineer and service director and that it would be well for the property owners to recommend some other form to these officials.

Engineer Wilhelm On Park Avenue

Engineer Wilhelm now took the floor and said the object he had outlined was to accommodate the traffic from Robinson avenue to Grant street. Lincoln street, he said, was on a very much less grade than Park avenue which is 8 per cent and which he had wanted to cut to 6 per cent. He said he did not want to work any hardship on any property owner but expressed the belief that the plan he had outlined would have beautified the street.

Chairman Osborn at this juncture declared that the wishes of the property owners ought to be consulted.

The mayor assured the delegation that it was the sense of the board of control to canvass the property owners before anything was done and coincide with their wishes in every respect as they were the ones who had to pay for the improvement.

Mr. Osborn also assured the visitors that they had done the right and proper thing by coming in early and said he felt quite sure it would work out satisfactorily. Mr. Wilhelm said he had spoken to Mr. Musser and a few other property owners regarding the improvement and asked him to see the others, adding and much laughter: "I guess he must have seen them."

Mrs. Dortha E. Bond, the only woman member of the delegation, when called upon, said the deepest cut in the street would perhaps be located in front of her home. She could not see that this would be practical or add anything to the beauty of the street, and as far as she, herself, was concerned, she preferred having access to her own home rather than to the cemetery.

Back It Comes; Overhead Crossing

Clerk Gableman read a communication from Chief Engineer J. E. Crawford, of the N. & W. railway, in reply to the formal notice that unless the company proceeded with the building of the overhead crossing by April 7th all legislation on the subject would be repealed and a return made to the Kendall avenue subway plan.

Mr. Gulker took exception to some name of the word elimination quoted in the letter from the city council records. He said the street committee had never recommended the elimination of the Kendall avenue crossing, but did recommend the overhead crossing in preference to a subway. He said the committee had always steered clear of Mr. Bannan on "the elimination." The idea was not originated by us, but was brought about by the railroad, not for the city's interests, but simply because it needed sixteen or more tracks, which would be impossible if we had insisted on an underground crossing," said Mr. Gulker, adding that the railway officials realized that they would have to bear the cost of all of the vast masonry that would be required. Continuing, he said the committee had told them they could close the crossing, but that this was a not for Gableman and the citizens.

Clerk Gableman now explained to council that Attorney Bannan had lately spent considerable time examining the records on the subject and that there had been quoted recently in the letter. Mr. Gableman said all legislation on the subject had been designed with a view to eliminating the grade crossing and that such was in the opinion the primary object of the overhead crossing. Chairman Osborn thought it well enough to read the letter at this time and give it publicity anyway. The letter was a review of all legislation pertaining to the underground and overhead plans, cited the N. & W. and B. & O. S. W. rights to the Kendall avenue crossing and said it was past the understanding of the officials as to what the city should want. To return to the subway plan, after having gone on record and made arrangements to spend $10,000 for an overhead crossing, it went into details in showing the disadvantages of the underground crossing as against the advantages of the overhead plan and declared the company could and would not proceed with the building of the viaduct unless council passed the resolution relieving it to interfere with the elimination of Kendall avenue grade crossing. The letter was ordered placed on file.

NEGRO ATTEMPTED TO ASSAULT WHITE GIRL

Russell, Ky., March 25.—Excitement was of fever heat last night in Russell, when it became generally known that Miss Gertrude McKenzie, aged 16, of East Russell, was attacked by a negro hobo, who attempted to ravish her. It seems that Miss McKenzie had gone out into the yard of her home just after dark last evening when she was seized by the negro and she at once began to scream wildly. Her assailant became alarmed and fled before he was able to accomplish his fiendish purpose.

Miss McKenzie's screams attracted members of her family and neighbors and the report of the assault spread rapidly throughout the city. Marshal Barnhart was summoned, but was away from home on business, and Detective Howery responded. He trailed the man for a distance, but lost him and returned for his bloodhounds.

The bloodhounds took up the trail immediately and led the detective and a posse to a large shack with, where the negro was seen to dart out of the shadows and flee into the hill. Detective Howery fired five times at the fleeing man and thinks that one of the bullets from his Winchester rifle found its mark.

However, he kept on fleeing and ran close upon and on over the hills. The dogs were somewhat intimidated by the firing of the detective's gun and lost the trail for a time, but picked it up on the top of the ridge of the hill just back of Russell and trailed the man down to Bear Run hollow, above Russell. There the scout was lost. The detective continued the search for hours longer, but failed to recover the trail.

The police authorities of all the nearby cities have been warned to watch for the assailant and it is expected that he will be captured today.

Complaints of Dogs

Will H. Barbee, a retired grocer, is very much in favor of the cleanup campaign, but says there is little incentive to improve one's premises so long as city authorities permit dogs to roam at large, destroying lawns, etc.

Two Burglar Scares; One The Real Thing

The rolling of a tub in the cellar of her home caused Mrs. Minnie A. Sutterfield, of No. 707 Third street, to suspect burglars were purging a return visit and she sent in a hurry call for police Wednesday night, about 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Sutterfield and her young son, James Alton Sutterfield, had just retired when frightened by the noise. Police Sergeant James Marshall made a thorough search of the premises and found everything in order, save the tub, which had swung out of its place, causing the noise that was heard by the occupants of the home.

Just a week ago Mrs. Sutterfield and son surprised a burglar in their home. They had just unlocked the front door upon their return home, when they heard noises in the rear. She went to investigate and saw a man's hand extending through the cellar-way. The next instant she was struck on the head with a club and pushed back, the fellow bolting from the hallway between the kitchen and sideyard, and was seen by neighbors to join a negro standing in a nearby alley holding a sack.

It developed that James Alton's savings bank, containing seven dollars in change, was missing from its place in the front room, while a sack of potatoes and some eggs were gone from the cellar. It was thought that the negro had entered the house some time during the day and secreted himself in the cellar.

alone for glory or great gain, but with a sincere desire to make the whole world kin. There are two gospels now instead of one; the gospel of good will has been supplemented with the gospel of personal contact. The gospel of good will continues to be supreme, but nothing will help it preach so loudly as those human agencies which eliminate distance, blend languages and give us sight as well as knowledge each of the other.

"I am quite sure that I am but one of a countless throng in this republic who regret that this altruistic work has a real or seeming defect in the charge of an injustice done a sister republic to the south. Let us not be too much dismayed this day by reason of that fact. The American people are wise and they know he is not wise who is not just. I look with confidence for the early arrival of that good hour when whatever wrong may have been done shall be righted and when there will be left no drop of bitter water to flow in that channel which unites the seas.

From the first to the present, the president of the United States, whenever thought has been voiced upon the subject, that thought has been that we exist for humanity's sake as much as for our own, that we have a friendly relations with all people and entangling alliances with none. While half the world is in a rage in describable and unutterable, seeking to build monuments out of clay kneaded in a brother's blood, sad-eyed and sober the madness of our institutions seeks to hold out to a warring world the olive branch of peace.

Waterway Dedicated To Ideal of the Republic

"Ostensibly I am here in the name of the president of the United States to dedicate this exposition in glorification of the completion of the canal. Really that waterway from its beginning was dedicated to the ideas and ideals of the republic.

"Here men of every age and every clime behold the noonday of the world's accomplishment, the crystallization of the dreams and thoughts of genius and of talent. May we not hope that here a thought-drawn will be born that shall not cease to broaden until at its meridian light all men around the world are one."
